Spiritual, religious and cultural inheritance

St. Stephan´s

Griechenbeisl/Fleischmarkt

With Vienna having been the residential city to the Habsburg Emperors of the Holy Roman Empire with their close ties to the Roman Catholic church, dozens and dozens of churches in different styles reflect the Catholic roots of Austrian culture even today, from humble Romanesque places of worship to flamboyant Baroque churches and in the very heart of the city the great Gothic cathedral built in stone yet aspiring heavenwards. Here we start our tour, which will lead us to some places important for Austria´s cultural inheritance, and will end at the Griechenbeisl, Vienna´s oldest inn, at Fleischmarkt.
